PARLIAMENT IS ADDRESSED BY
LLOYD GEORGEGovernment Will Stand By
Its Declaration of War AimsVON HERTLING AND CZERNIN
REPLIES DISAPPOINTINGTo the Statements Made By Premier and President
Wilson

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Tuesday, Feb. 12.—Parliament reassembled today with curiosity as to how Premier Lloyd George would meet President Wilson's latest declaration and the dissatisfaction manifested by a section of the press and public over the Versailles council and also as to how far former Premier Asquith, would respond to the demand of the extreme wing of his followers for the abandonment of the policy of benevolence toward the government in favor of active opposition based on disapproval of the general war policy and especially the enlargement of the functions of the supreme war council.

The house of commons was not disappointed for the sitting proved unusually exciting. It could hardly be said that Mr. Asquith rose to the expectation of the most eager of his party, but the temper of a large section of the members seemed to show that such tactics would meet with considerable support.

Perhaps the most notable thing was the contrast of the speeches of the premier and the former Premier with reference to President Wilson's speech. While Mr. Asquith endorsed fully the president's view, Premier Lloyd George did not even mention Mr. Wilson's last speech and declined to see in Count Czernin's statement any nearer approach to reasonable terms than in Count von Hertling's. Moreover the premier regarded the German chancellor's demand that Great Britain gave up her coaling stations as proving fully that the controllers of German policy were in no mood to discuss reasonable terms of peace.

Declaring absolutely that he would not yield on the matter of revealing more about the Versailles conference, Premier Lloyd George challenged the house, if dissatisfied with the government's conduct of the war to put another government in its place.

The question of enlarging on the status of the Versailles council led to a scene between the premier and Mr. Asquith, and throughout his remarks about the council, the premier was subjected to a running fire of heckling, punctuated with loud cheers from extreme liberals, many of whom, in subsequent speeches made strong attacks on the premier regarding his alleged connection with the press.

Lord Hugh Cecil, member for Oxford University, admitted the premier's speech was reassuring, but said that the weakness of the government lay in the excessive of coincidences between utterances in the press and certain lines of governmental action. He hoped the government would not hesitate to suppress, if necessary, even the most suppress.

GUNNERS OF THE AMERICAN ARMY
GROW ACCURATE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
With the American Army in France, Tuesday, Feb. 12.—Aside from increased aerial activity the American sector has been normal for the past 24 hours. Harassing artillery fire and patrolling operations have been kept up but there have been no clashes.

The American gunners are said to be growing more accurate daily. They have been especially effective in registering on the roads and light railways back of the enemy lines. So accurate has been the shrapnel fire against the first lines of the enemy that they are now nearly abandoned.

In a sector such as this the Germans seldom man their first lines fully but opposite the American positions they are reported to be keeping considerably less than the usual number in the trenches.

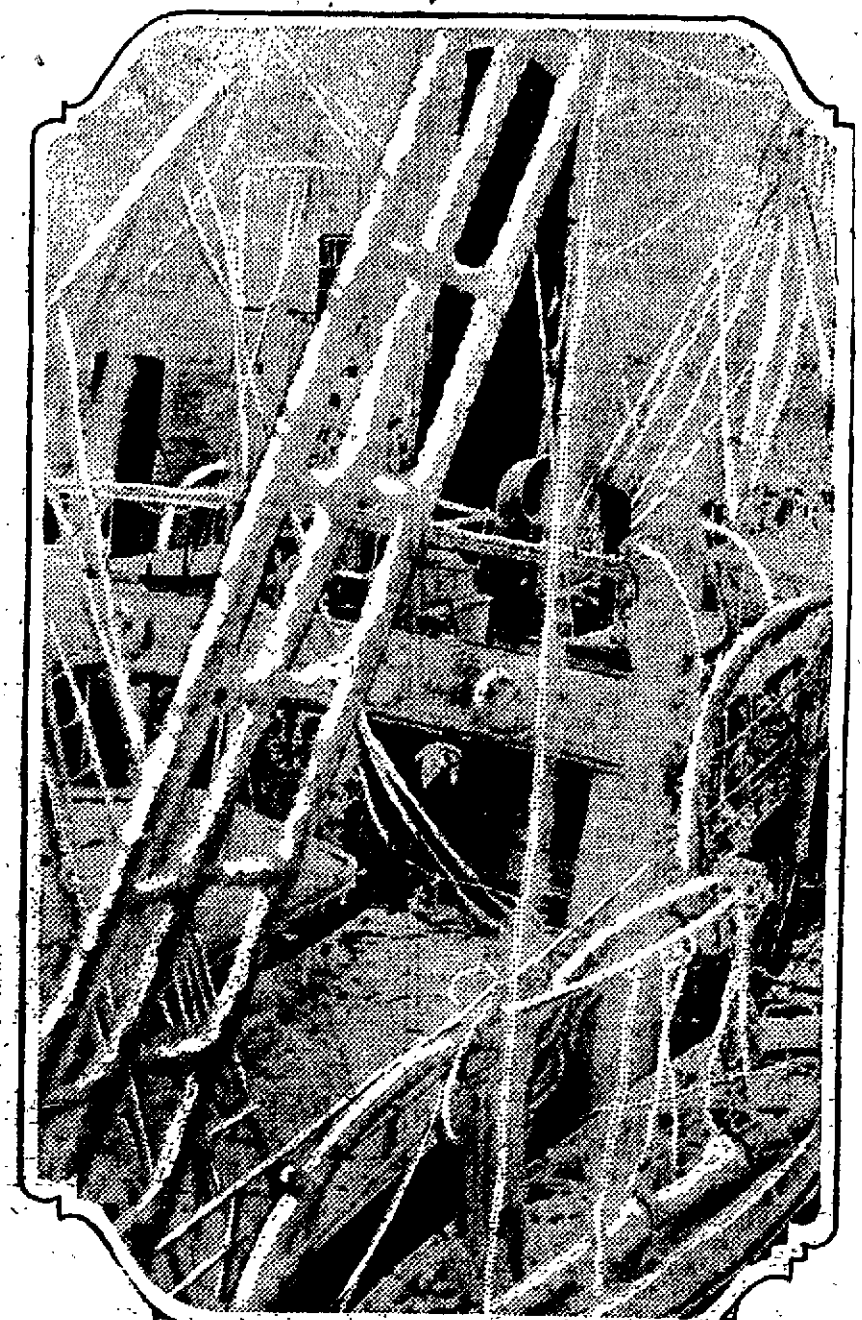

The number of enemy snipers and sniping posts has been reduced still further by the American sharpshooters, machine gunners and artillery men. Airplanes were overhead everywhere today. The enemy in the day time sent over a considerable number of machines in battle formation. They were met and driven back by a French squadron.

The wounding of three men in consequence of an accident was reported today, constituting the only new casualties.

MARKED IMPROVEMENT SHOWN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Feb. 13.—A marked improvement in the condition of Theodore Roosevelt was announced at Roosevelt hospital this morning. He passed a comfortable night and awakened at 7 o'clock greatly refreshed.

Mrs. Roosevelt spent sometime early in the day at the bedside.

COALING WARSHIP IN ARCTICS
LOOKS TO BE A FRIGID AFFAIR

British warship in the Arctic coaling from a collier at her side.

Coaling a warship in the Arctic appears to be a coaling business. The job of coaling is none too pleasant under the most agreeable circumstances and when the temperature is well below zero it is just as unpleasant as you will suppose after a look at the picture.

MUCH COAL IS BEING MOVED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Feb. 13.—Early reports to the railroad administration today indicated greater movement of coal than for many weeks, owing to favorable weather over most of the country. In the middle west grain is beginning to reach central elevators in considerable quantities.

R. H. Ashton, regional director for the west, predicts that the movement will increase daily and that practically no soft corn will spoil before being transferred to drying elevators.

CHEERS FOR AMERICA
AT OPENING SESSION
ITALIAN PARLIAMENT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Rome, Tuesday, Feb. 12.—Enthusiastic applause and cheers for America met the declaration of Premier Orlando at the opening of parliament today that the war situation was growing better, due to help from the United States replacing Russia.

Premier Orlando reviewed the Versailles conference and pointed out that so far as Italy was concerned the continuation of the war was no longer a matter of choice, but necessity. Also, he said, this fact is understood by all patriotic Italians who are now willing to wage war to the bitter end. Regarding Italy's aims the premier declared that they were unimpaired.

POSSIBILITY OF
SEPARATE PEACE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Feb. 13.—According to the lobby correspondent of the Daily News facts are known which bring the possibility of a separate peace between Austria-Hungary and the entente allies much nearer. Great reluctance, he says, is manifested in Austria toward the prospect of fighting with British and American troops on the Western front.

GERMAN CHANCELLOR WILL ANSWER WILSON TUESDAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Amsterdam, Feb. 13.—The Berlin Tageblatt says that the central powers have addressed a demand to Rumania to enter peace negotiations and requested an answer by this evening. The newspaper says the demand did not take the form of an ultimatum with an inherent threat.

Late last week some of the German newspapers printed reports that Field Marshal Mackensen had sent an ultimatum to Rumania on Feb. 6 demanding that peace negotiations be begun within four days.

SCIOTO RIVER RECOVERED.
Columbus, Feb. 13.—With the Scioto river receding in many places, the weather bureau reported this morning that no serious damage is expected if weather conditions remain normal.

The river stage at 6:30 this morning was 15.8 feet.

GREAT BRITAIN
STILL RELIES ON
U. S. FOR FOOD

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Feb. 13.—Sir William Goode, who since the entry of the United States into the war has occupied the important post of liaison officer between the food administration and the United States food administration, discussed the present food situation in an address today at the London Rotary club.

"Few people," said Sir William, "have yet grasped the fundamental fact that Great Britain still relies on the United States and Canada for 65 per cent of her essential foodstuffs. Unless we can get this food, or nearly all of it, we shall peter out. As to how we get it, the popular idea seems to be that the United States is an up-to-date combination of miracle loaves and fishes and widow's crust."

"What I want you to realize is the amazing way in which the energies and sentiments of the American people have been harnessed to a great national movement of organized self-sacrifices, so that the allies can have food enough to carry on the war."

He proceeded to give a detailed account of the steps taken by the United States toward food production and conservation.

"The cynic will tell you," he said, "that it is ridiculous to imagine that the American people living in the midst of plenty, will make such sacrifices as these for the sake of their allies thousands of miles away. The cynic will regard President Wilson and Herbert C. Hoover to the category of well meaning idealists. But these voluntary measures can be tested by results."

"Early last month we received from Mr. Hoover a cablegram saying that he found that as a result of the American conservation plan he had 150,000,000 pounds of bacon and 25,000,000 pounds of frozen meat more than the British representatives in the United States had estimated as likely to be available. His offer was so unexpected that we had to puzzle to get the finance and shipping for this windfall. Later on it turned out that the amount of frozen meat available was thousands of tons above the Hoover estimate. Except for the hold up of shipping in American ports due to the congestion of railways and blizzards our bacon and meat shortage would long since have been eased by these shipments which represent only a small percentage of the total sacrifices of the American people."

"It is lucky for us that a man like Mr. Hoover is at the helm of the allied food supply and that behind him is a people willing to deny themselves so we may live to fight."

FROM ILL-FATED TUSCANIAOne Hundred and Sixty-
Four Americans Buried
at Different Points

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
A Scotch Seaport, Tuesday, Feb. 12.—Up to Tuesday night, a week after the disaster, 171 victims of the ill-fated Tuscania had been laid to rest at different points on the Scottish coast. These were divided as follows:

Americans—131 identified and 33 unidentified. Crew 4 identified and 3 unidentified.

The Associated Press correspondent co-operated with the American army officers in obtaining these figures, which are forward to Washington as the most accurate and complete list obtainable. The last seventeen of these bodies recovered—all Americans—were buried this afternoon, villagers coming many miles in the rain to pay their tribute to the American dead. The bodies were brought to the burial place on one big motor-truck. One of the villagers carried the Union Jack, while an American soldier held aloft the Stars and Stripes.

At the grave the American soldiers sang the "Star Spangled Banner," followed by the natives singing "God Save the King." The usual military salute was then fired. Temporary fences have been built around the graves to be replaced by a permanent enclosure as soon as possible. It was said that the people of the nearby countryside had started a public subscription to erect a permanent monument to the Americans.

There are eight Americans still here too ill to leave. They are quarantined in nearby farm houses and village hotels. These men are: R. I. Benfield, E. H. Byström, Wilbur C. Nutt, Boyd E. Hancock, E. E. Harpman, Henry Schurting, James J. Colwell and F. A. Gocher.

One American officer and fourteen men are still in a hospital at Glasgow.

OHIOAN BURIED ON THE SCOTTISH COAST

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Feb. 13.—With 164 American soldiers of the Tuscania known to be dead and buried on the Scottish coast, an unofficial estimate today places the total loss of American troops at 267. After eliminating from the passenger list the names of survivors and the identified dead and accounted for 33 unidentified dead, 136 soldiers still are not accounted for and it is believed they were lost.

The partial list of the Tuscania's dead, sent by The Associated Press correspondent from a Scottish seaport today as having been buried on the Scottish coast, is the first definite information to reach relatives of the soldiers who have not been reported in the lists of survivors. War department officials have been helped.

AMERICAN STEAMER
SUNK A SUBMARINE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
An Atlantic Port, Feb. 13.—An American steamship arriving here today reported having sunk a German submarine in the Mediterranean on January 19 last, after a running fight. The steamer was not hit.

On the outward voyage the same craft was attacked in the Mediterranean by two submarines. One was sighted off the bow of the steamer, and when the captain attempted to ram the undersize boat it submerged and made off. At the same time the gun-crew fought off another submarine from the stern.

The crew of the vessel reported that British patrolboats captured two submarines of the Canary Islands on January 7.

AMALGAMATION FOR THE TROTTER ASSOCIATIONS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Feb. 13.—The National Trotting Association, holding its thirteenth biennial congress, adopted here today a committee's report recommending amalgamation with the American Trotting Association. The report will be sent to the association with the suggestion that it take similar action.

FRENCH ADVANCE TO THE FOURTH
GERMAN LINE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
With the French Army in France, Tuesday, Feb. 12.—In the course of three successful trench raids, early this morning the French advanced as far as the fourth German line between LaFrette and Mont Marais in the Woëvre, and took prisoners belonging to the ninth Bavarian and the Ninety-fourth Landwehr divisions.

The German entanglements had been destroyed by the French artillery last night and the progress of the assaulting column was favored by a heavy mist. As soon as the French reached the first positions the Germans opened a sweeping machine gun fire as well as an artillery barrage, but the French penetrated the shell curtain almost without casualties demolishing all the enemy shelters and emplacements and returned to their own lines with most valuable information.

While the French attack was in progress the Germans attempted to raid at Ragnelle in the same district, but were repulsed with heavy losses.

BRUTAL ACTS OF
GERMAN INVADERS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Feb. 13.—The Austro-German invaders in northern Italy daily are resorting to increasing acts of vandalism, violence, pillage and brutality, according to prisoners captured by the Italians, a Havas dispatch from Rome says.

Udine has been pillaged and buildings destroyed wantonly by intoxicated troops. The rivalry in stealing, it is said, has been so great that bloody fights have broken out between the various groups of the central powers.

Women and children, it is added, have been stripped of their clothing, while foodstuffs are sent away to officers. The city of Trigesimo has been pillaged of leather and copper and the church bells there have been taken away.

THRIFT STAMP SALES
PASS $50,000,000 MARK

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Feb. 13.—Receipts from sale of war savings and thrift stamps today passed the $50,000,000 mark. Officials declared actual sales probably have amounted to $10,000,000 more.

Directors believe the daily revenue from the thrift combination will be within a month nearly $5,000,000 a day.

LOWLANDS NEAR TOLEDO FLOODED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Toledo, O., Feb. 13.—Several ice gorges in the Miami river let go above the city last night, flooding highways, a cemetery and the lowlands, between Maumee and Water-ville villages.

The water is backed up behind an immense gorge, four miles above the city. Steam was gotten up today or two ice-crushing tugs to break a channel across the city and tow to places of safety freighters; a ship just completed for ocean service for the government and several smaller craft, lying in exposed positions.

The water is 18 feet above normal, eight miles above Toledo early today, but at normal stage here. The danger of high water here lies in the possibility of sudden break of the big up-river gorge.

BELIEVE THAT
FLOOD DANGER
IS NOW OVER

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cincinnati, Feb. 13.—The Ohio river is slowly creeping back within its banks, the stage at 9 a. m. today being 53.2 feet, or 3.2 feet above the danger-line of flood stage. It is falling at the rate of two-tenths of a foot an hour.

Considerable damage along small tributaries to the Ohio was reported last night and early today as the result of the running out of these streams following the breaking of the Sugar creek gorge yesterday.

The Baltimore & Ohio steel railroad bridge over the Big Miami river, near Cleves, O., has been washed from its concrete abutments and will require approximately 30 days before temporary repairs can be made. The bridge was built following the disastrous flood of 1913. The Baltimore & Ohio trains are being detoured over the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis tracks.

MAY WASH COTTAGES
INTO LAKE ERIE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, Feb. 13.—An ice jam, twelve feet high, across Rocky river just north of the bridge was threatening to break this morning and many buildings and cottages were in danger of being washed into Lake Erie.

Today's jam followed the breaking last night of another jam near the bridge. Two buildings were washed off their foundations when the first jam gave way.

COUNTRY'S WATERWAYS
TO BE INVESTIGATED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Feb. 13.—Investigation of the country's water ways and their utilization to relieve the railroad freight burden was begun today by the committee appointed by Director General McAdoo.

The committee expects to complete its work at a nearly date so that definite measures may be taken this summer. It may decide to construct new canal terminal facilities to accommodate a greater number of boats.

The committee will devote special attention to the Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio rivers, the Erie, Chesapeake and Ohio Canals and the Atlantic coastwise canals.

HINTING AT THE
SEPARATE PEACEBetween Austro-Hungary
and the Entente Taking Place In LondonMARKED ACTIVITY BEHIND
GERMAN LINES NOTICEABLEBelieved That Attack Will Be Made On British
Front In March

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches)
Count von Hertling, the imperial German chancellor, it is unofficially announced, will answer President Wilson's address to congress in the German reichstag next Tuesday. President Wilson saw a difference between the chancellor's recent statement and that of Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, and declared that Count von Hertling had not withdrawn from his position that peace should be made on Germany's terms.

Facts are known in London, the Daily News says, which bring closer the possibility of a separate peace between Austria-Hungary and the entente. Austria is said to look with disfavor on sending her soldiers against those of the United States and Great Britain.

Challenged to move want of confidence in his government by Premier Lloyd George, the British house of commons yesterday failed to take such action. Criticism of the Versailles council and the premier's attitude concerning it was voiced in the house by former Premier Asquith and other speakers. As to reports that Field Marshal Haig and General Robertson had been dismissed or had resigned, spokesmen for the government denied the truth of such statements.

Premier Lloyd George, in the house, and King George, in an address to parliament, asserted a basis for a democratic peace could be found in the peace conference. Leaders of the extreme left in the premier said he saw no distinction in substance between the peace utterances of Chancellor von Hertling and Count Czernin. Before the Italian parliament, Premier Orlando has declared that Italy will fight on until victory is achieved.

There is yet no indication that military operations on the western front are about to be resumed on a large scale. Attempts by raising parties are growing stronger, especially on the French front; Verdun and in the Woëvre, but there have been no attacks in the "Sometime in March," according to a German prisoner, the Germans will attack on the British front. He did not know if a general offensive would be begun then, but there is marked activity behind the German lines.

The weather on the British front continues favorable and the fields and roads are drying fast. At points along the Scottish coast the bodies of 164 American victims of the sinking of the Tuscania by a German submarine have been found. Thirty-three of these have not been identified. Most of the Americans have been buried. The bodies of seven members of the crew also have been washed upon the coast of Scotland.

SMALLPOX OVER THE STATE IS ON THE INCREASE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Feb. 13.—Ohio in January had twice as many smallpox cases as in any month of the previous year with the exception of December, 1917. Cases reported to the state department of health that department announced today numbered 1,853, and late reports may send this figure higher. The December total was 1,131. Only 75 of the 38 counties reported no cases.

Summit county, with 243 cases, had the highest county total. Of these cases, 170 were in Akron. Henry county was first from the stand point of population, with 203 cases or eight per 1,000 inhabitants. Napoleon, Henry county seat, reported 158 cases.

Shelby county, after leading the county list for several months dropped back to seventh place, with 54 cases in January.

Other county totals of 50 or more cases were: Greene 109, Cuyahoga 108, Scioto 103, Franklin 72, Adams 63, Pickaway 59, Lucas 50.

Counties reporting from 25 to 50 cases were: Allen 38, Butler 36, Gurnsey 36, Hamilton 33, Hancock 32, Holmes 29, Jackson 27, Laramie 22, Mercer 24, Montgomery 22, Clark 35, Wayne 43.

Reports since the beginning of the present outbreak in September, show only nine counties yet untouched. They are: Hardin, Madison, Ashland, Meigs, Morgan, Ash-tula, Jefferson, Noble and Monroe. State health officials point out that lack of reports in some cases may be due to neglect of the notification law by physicians, rather than to actual freedom from the disease.

WILL REALIZE NICE SUM FROM ELK MINSTRELS

The Elk minstrel played to capacity business again last evening, standing room being at a premium and several hundred requests for reservations at the box office could not be accommodated. As a result of the two nights' engagement a neat sum has been realized, which will be used for charity and war activities.

There was a new participant in last night's program, O. C. "Cooky" Jones, who made quite a hit in the cabaret scene dressed as a soubrette and who finished at the close of the act by a dance with one of the Rosebud Sisters.

The entertainment was much smoother last evening than the one of the night before, the rough edges having been worn off and there was no delay or stage waits. As usual patrons, that is some of them, managed to get to the Auditorium after the show had started and were seated to the discomfort of others who came earlier.

LARGE CROWD PRESENT LINCOLN DAY PROGRAM

The Lincoln Day program at the High school last evening was attended by a large and appreciative audience, and the committee in charge is to be complimented on arranging the interesting program.

O. B. Hunt opened the meeting by giving a short talk on the life of the immortal Lincoln after which the audience sang, "America." Ray Martin took the Gettysburg Speech as the subject of his address and explained the full meaning of every word in such a way that every one had a better understanding of the great address.

The Masonic chorus is to be complimented on the fine numbers they rendered.

Captain Charles W. Montgomery of the United States Army, talked on the patriotism of the people of the United States from the time of the Revolution until the present day. He said that the thing we were fighting for today is the same thing that this country has fought every war for, that one great idea of freedom for all. He said that this war was far from being over and that the government needed the support of every citizen. Let us carry on the greatest country of all times and fight for its freedom as did the men of the Revolution, and the Civil war. We have enjoyed the greatest fifty years of history but if we are to continue this we must fight for it.

The Old Guards were introduced to the audience and said they were ready to go back into the battle and do their part.

The meeting closed by Rev. Bohon Schmitt pronouncing the benediction.

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

"From the statistics we have on hand," writes Secretary Kelley of the Ohio War Savings Committee, "we believe in proportion, Licking county schools lead the states in per capita purchases of war savings stamps. The Licking county organization and Superintendent Hawkins are to be congratulated on their splendid success." Supt. N. D. O. Wilson and the district superintendents are now organizing the schools over the county.

Postmaster Duckworth is about to have an advertisement for war savings stamps placed in every rural mail box in the vicinity of Johnstown.

In making purchases ask for part of your change in Thrift Stamps.

Postmasters and bankers are reminded that weekly reports are due tomorrow at close of business for the day.

The list of stamp agencies grows every day. If you are a merchant, manufacturer, teacher or professional man or are engaged in any other pursuit that will permit you to handle stamps telephone auto 23124. The government wants 600 agents in Licking county at once.

Supt. J. H. Hupp of the Etna schools writes: "You may count on me to act as one of your stamp agents in Licking county. I will do all I can to bring the war savings plan to the attention of the pupils in our schools."

"The war savings plan is a fine thing for the children," remarked a well-known Newark man last night. It certainly is, but it's just as fine a thing for the grown ups. War savings stamps are tax free and they grow in value every month. Unless the men and women get into the campaign as the children are now doing it will fail because the people of the county are asked to buy $4,000 worth of these stamps every week day this year.

The following Ohio counties passed their weekly quota of war savings and thrift stamp sales says a report from the Ohio War Savings Committee: Ashland, Coshocton, Knox, Fairfield, Galia, Highland, Logan, Marion, Morgan and Licking. The Licking county sales up to Feb. 1st exceeded the quota by about $20,000 but sales fell $3,000 short of the quota for the week ending Feb. 7. The quota is approximately $100,000 a month.

AGENT MAKING A SEED CORN SURVEY OF UNION TOWNSHIP

Joseph W. Tulloss of Mt. Vernon, an emergency county agent, is assisting County Agent Mowls to make a seed-corn survey of Union township this week. The idea is to ascertain if there is enough seed-corn in that township to plant it this spring. Very little good seed is being found. All old corn is being listed and samples of good appearances from the ears are being taken. It is urged that all farmers in the county list their crops of 1918 corn with the county agent, that those wanting good seed-corn can be so directed. If it is found that there is not enough seed-corn in the county, steps must be taken to get it elsewhere, and that at an early date.

Anyone wishing farm labor—single men—should see the county agent Saturday.

Wigg—"Do you think the postal service would be improved by women letter carriers?" Wagg—"I do not. The mails are sometimes late, but not so often as the females."

EXAMINATION FOR RURAL CARRIER TO FILL VACANCIES

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for Licking county to be held in this city and Granville on March 9, at 10:30 a. m. to fill the position of rural carrier at Toboso, Ohio, and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other post offices in the above mentioned county. The examination will be open only to male citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post office in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. This form and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR MASONIC FRATERNITY

A reception and entertainment for members of the Masonic fraternity and their families has been arranged by the directors of the Temple Association to be given on Wednesday evening, March 13, at the Blue Lodge room. The program will consist of an illustrated talk by Laurence D. Kitchell on the subject "Over Skyland Trails Through Glacier National Park and the Great Northwest." This will include an hour of de luxe "Glacier" motion pictures supplemented by many slides in color, and embraces the pick of the 1917 work in Glacier Park of a half dozen camera men of high repute. It is hoped that the members will remember this date and arrange to be present.

Well—"The author you were engaged to specialized in fiction, didn't he?" Belle—"Well, he wrote beautiful love letters."

Why IDEAL Boilers cut fuel bills

The IDEAL Hot Water Boiler here shown is on a floor-level weighing platform. The Boiler is weighed empty, then with its full charge of fuel, and finally the ashes are weighed separately. Meanwhile the total heat produced or transmitted by the burned fuel to the water and circulated to warm the rooms is recorded absolutely, by means of Government standard thermometers, gauges, electric recording charts, etc. All facts are exactly computed.

In our Institute of Thermal Research tests of the heating efficiency and economy of the IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators are made by scientific men and fuel engineers, impartially and according to the most authoritative instruments and methods. All is proved—nothing is left to old-time guesswork. The elaborate fuel-economy proofs furnished with each size and type of IDEAL-AMERICAN outfit are the most complete and convincing reasons why

THE RUSSIAN MESS.

Can any more help be expected from Russia? The miserable and pitiable collapse of this once-powerful people has been the greatest triumph Germany has won in this war. Her legion of spies and paid agents have worked their slimy way into every Russian village, and have accomplished ten times as much as the German armies have done in any field.

The worst of the situation is that the majority of the Russian people appear to be permeated with the most extreme Socialist views. They hate any man who has a bit of property worse than they hate German tyranny. Their first aim is to destroy all rights of private ownership, which means the destruction of all the world has accomplished in thirty centuries.

In spite of the complete prostration of Russian power, Germany still feels it necessary to keep 60 divisions, or 900,000 men, on that front, though they are largely worn-out troops. That is something in the way of help.

There are two opinions as to the attitude our government should assume toward the Russians. One view believes that the Bolsheviks are Germany's most deadly foe, inasmuch as they are spreading their dangerous doctrines through all the German soldiers with whom they came in contact. This opinion would have us to do all in our power to conciliate and compromise with the wild-eyed crowd that now rules in Petrograd. Against this there is the fact that the present rulers of Russia have scorned and flouted all pledges and agreements by which the Russian people was bound and have violated all compacts of honor and good faith.

However, the friendship of the Russian people is worth having. If Germany wins their favor, the exhausted granaries of the Teutons will be refilled, and the economic pressure that now threatens German collapse, will be relieved. We may have to eat some humble pie to keep on good terms with the wild men that have repudiated all faith and bonds of honor. But we cannot permit Germany to ingratiate herself with 200,000,000 Russians as their best friend and protector.

Thrift is the need of the present; the hope of the future. Some day peace will come—millions of men will be suddenly thrown back into civil life. Prepare for a new period of reconstruction. Begin to save now—the best way is through purchase of War Savings stamps.

There is just one way to get out of this war; that is to win it. Every time you invest in a War Savings stamp you are hastening peace.

American boys are dying for their country. Surely, you can save for it. By buying War Savings stamps.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

Ash Wednesday and beginning of the forty days of Lent. Planet Uranus in conjunction with the sun but not visible except through a telescope.

THE LOBBYISTS.

What a commotion there must have been among many persuasive and eloquent gentlemen who formerly drew fat checks from the railroads for political influence or lobby work in congress and the state legislatures. Some men will have lost their principal source of income now that this class of service has been cut off. The ante-rooms of legislative assemblies will seem quite cold and lonely without their genial presence.

Formerly, legislative agents were apt to be aggressive, verbose, windy, and rather a coarse type, as a whole. Now they have the refinement of the artist. They work primarily to conciliate, and to please. They avoid heated arguments. They may agree to everything you say, but in a most courteous manner, giving the impression of flattery. They present their point of view, and a man needs independent convictions not to be too much swayed by their pleas.

The lobby proposition is, a very difficult one on which to draw the line. Any interest has the right to present its case to any public body. A great deal of so-called lobby work is perfectly legitimate. The danger comes when the lobbyist goes beyond fair argument, and begins to influence law-makers by a social blandishments. When he begins to invite doubtful voters out to dinner and to automobile rides and theater parties, then is the time for the unsuspecting legislator to have a care.

The lobby would never have been such a dangerous power had the voters been careful to send men of independent and intelligent views to legislative halls. As long as we elect candidates on the basis of social popularity and good fellowship, so long will the graceful persuasions of the trained lobbyist go beyond the range of legitimate argument, and cross the line of undue influence. If the lobby has been too powerful, it is because the law-makers have not been able to meet them on equal terms of ability and discrimination.

AVIATION PERILS.

Not merely do we want to save every one of the superb young fellows who are going into aviation, but if we are to obtain control of the air, we must take every possible step to save the lives of our aviators. Science will not probably be able to devise any motor that will never give out. But the new science of aviation must teach its young men how to save themselves when the engine does stall in the air.

The greater danger is not when the engine gives out at a high altitude, as most people imagine. It is when the failure occurs near the ground. Many accidents occur at a height of 50 to 100 feet. The green aviator finds his motor goes bad, he tries to make a turn so as to glide down, but he has no headway. The plane "slide-slips" and falls all in a heap, with the same result as if it had fallen from a height of 10,000 feet.

With a plane that will fly at a minimum speed of 40 miles an hour, the aviator should be able to glide down at 60 miles in perfect safety without engine-power. If he is high enough so he can pick his own place for landing he is safe.

A noted aviator has said that he would guarantee to land on the roofs of a crowded city, provided he felt he could save up all thought of the machine and consider only saving his own life. The aviators, splendid heroes that they are, frequently consider their own lives but little. They take so much pride in their machines, and have such a contempt for unworkmanlike methods, that they hold their own lives far too cheap. They must get over that. They must recognize that their skill and daring is worth far more to their country than any machine ever can be.

RURAL COLONIES.

A bill is before congress to establish rural colonies, with five acres or more of land to each man. The idea is to provide expert supervision and agencies for buying supplies and selling products. It is hoped to induce young men to take up scientific food-raising on a large scale. It's about time to do something more on the food question than appoint committees, give hearings, and print government reports. Young men will take up such a proposition, provided it will give them as good a living as they can earn in other callings, and they won't unless it does.

Considering the high prices of food, and the prospects that they will stay up, this proposition looks good. By buying and selling co-operatively a lot of lost motion and wasteful profits should be cut out. If these colonies are established, it will be well for the public to buy directly of them as much as possible, so as to cut out the needless intricacies of the good distribution system.

Many a man tries to keep his head above water by drowning his sorrows.

The Bread Ration.

Without doubt the two-ounce ration of wheat bread per meal, provided we have enough other things, is simple, and Mr. Hoover has done us no harm by his edict. With those who live luxuriously bread is an appetizer at best. The regulation affects only those who eat at hotels, restaurants, on dining cars and the like. It does not touch the home table directly, though it is probable that it will have an immediate and increasing influence there. With those who do not and cannot live luxuriously bread is too often veritably the staff of life and the emasculated wheat loaf from the corner bakery too apt to be the refuge of the housewife who does not understand the superior value of less expensive, if less easily provided, foods.—Boston Transcript.

Test of Man and Plans Is Yet.
It must be understood that the most searching problems of the war are still to come. We have not begun to fight in France and the war may go on for years. It will take a strong, resourceful, inflexible man to conduct the business of the war department. Secretary Baker has coped with the preliminaries, learning as he went along, and standing up under criticism as best he could. But he has not been severely tested. Whether even the reorganization of the war department which he has planned will satisfy congress is a question to be settled only after debate on the new legislation which Senator Chamberlain has proposed. Mr. Baker has filed his brief. The other side is to be heard.—New York Times.

When to Expect the End.
Whether Scheldemann was sincere or was only pandering to patriotism when he said that he could not see a day when Germany would say, "I am beaten; give me peace," it is of the utmost importance that he said—and all Germany heard him say it—that he could not see any day when the allies would make a similar confession. Germans have been enduring great sufferings in the expectation of an ultimate triumph. They are rapidly becoming accustomed to the idea that a German victory is impossible. When the Germans realize that they cannot win they will rapidly lose their resolution to go on enduring.—Philadelphia Record.

LET CRITICISM BE CONSTRUCTIVE.

(New York Commercial.)
Fair criticism is to be encouraged when it is constructive. Practical men can serve the country by suggesting improvements either by personal communication or through the daily newspapers. Suggestions that coal should be brought to New York on motor trucks by ferry have been put in practice with excellent results. Segregation of railroad traffic is rapidly relieving the blockade. Mr. McAdoo is correcting the confusion caused by various government officials issuing priority orders for movements of government freight without knowing what others were doing. It is fair and useful criticism to tell the story of an impatient official who issued a rush order for the shipment of two anchors for a vessel whose keel had not been laid. He will not do it again, and his error has educational value for every department at Washington.

Candor compels the admission that government officials are learning from their mistakes. The best of men make mistakes; but do not make the same mistake twice. The President has an open mind and firmness of purpose, a combination that ensures efficiency. The country is behind him with men, money and the will to win this war.

THE CRISIS.

(Ohio State Journal.)
Secretary Baker thinks the big drive the Germans have been preparing will soon take place. We will wait until that is over before we say how long the war will last. Germany knows the importance of that drive and has no doubt prepared at every point to make it a success. She has an immense force and understands the importance of the event. It is going to cost thousands upon thousands of lives. It will doubtless be the most powerful attack any army ever made on another. It is a moment of profound fear. But we are told that the allies are ready for it and will repel it. If they do, the Kaiser will mark the gravestone of the Kaiser, and Hohenzollernism will be a bleak and shattered memory. How great it will be if it so turns out and military autocracy is finally quelled! What a joy and a gratitude will fill this land when the boys come marching home. Let us not cease from hoping it.

QUAKER QUIPS.

(Philadelphia Record.)
The higher life seems to have little in common with the high cost of living.

In spite of the war the telephone continues to be the thing most talked over.

It costs little effort to make some people happy. All you have to do is to envy them.

If a girl can't marry her ideal, the next best thing to do is to marry some other girl's.

It is quite possible that single blessedness may be based on the theory that misery loves company.

Even when a man feels that he can no longer count on his friends he can continue to count on his fingers.

Some people are so addicted to the habit of splitting hairs that they lose sight of the fact that they need a haircut.

Sillicus—"I hate to feel that I am making a fool of myself." Cynicus—"Yes, especially when it's so easy to get some girl to do it for you."

"Clothes don't make the man," quoted the Wise Guy. "Nevertheless that is no reason why a man shouldn't wear them," retorted the Simple Mug.

PROGRAM OF BOLSHIEVIKI.

(Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.)

Bolshevism is as fascinating as a kaleidoscope. And as unsatisfying and futile. It is a whirlwind of change. It is true only in the principle of change. In some of its forms it terrorizes; in others it is highly attractive, to speculative minds at least. But it is ever fleeting. Its only permanence is its constant shifting. Yet Bolshevism, personified in Lenin and Trotsky, has a program we are told. The news is brought by Franklin A. Gaylord, for 18 years the personal representative in Petrograd of James Stokes of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association. Mr. Gaylord talked at length to a reporter for the New York Evening Post on conditions in Russia. Of the Bolshevik program he said:

First of all, they have determined upon an absolute stopping of the war. That you all know, but do not think you know how wonderfully popular they became upon making that announcement. Their second purpose is to give the land to the peasants. How they will do this I do not know, and I am not certain that they have worked out a plan. Thirdly, and perhaps the most revolutionary of all, their plan is to reorganize the manufactures and industries of the country, guaranteeing to the workers profits of only 5 or 6 per cent, paying fair wages to employees and turning the balance into the treasuries of the local and central governments.

The first and second purposes we are familiar with. They do not afford any basis for hope that Bolshevism will prove the universal blessing its apostles believe it to be. Everybody is for peace—the right kind of peace. Bolshevism is concerned merely for stopping the war, making a settlement on an idealistic principle that would be upset by the slightest jar and bring about a renewal of chaos. Distributing the land to the peasants might prove the simplest of all the problems Bolshevism has set for itself, but that it will establish a permanent condition of justice and happiness is gravely to be doubted. The third clause of the program goes beyond anything heretofore advanced. It cracks the Socialism idea wide open. Attempt to put it into practice and the stage will be set for a return to the economic conditions which they abhor, with causes of popular dissatisfaction magnified a thousandfold.

In this proposition to "reorganize the manufactures and industries of the country, guaranteeing to the workers profits of only 5 or 6 per cent" is recognition of property rights diametrically opposed to the fundamental principle of Socialism. How can Lenin and Trotsky justify to their followers setting up a new order of capitalism more offensive than any in existence today? What would become of the class war, so dear to the Socialist heart? The loudest shouters of the slogan, "everything to the workers," must admit that capitalism has not been without benefit to the world. The capitalists have made things "go," despite the Socialist denunciations on the theory that they merely have exploited the workers. But capitalism drew dividends from enterprises to which it contributed nothing? That would be hateful in the high of men, whether subscribers to Socialism or not. It may be on the Lenin-Trotsky program, but if so it only emphasizes the kaleidoscopic character of Bolshevism. Put forward seriously it may swiftly lead to a revolution which will sweep into popular favor that reported proposition of the Red Guards in Finland, to have a "St. Bartholomew's Night" on which all capitalists eight years old or over would be slaughtered.

The varying manifestations of love of humanity which we have had from the Bolsheviks encourage no hope that the charlatans dominating over Russia and seeking to fasten their clutches on the whole world ever will do anything but keep civilization in a ferment if they are not suppressed.

IMPROVED CONDITIONS.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

Whatever difference of opinion may have existed as to the utility and wisdom of Administrator Garfield's feebleless Monday letter and the spirit of the order were joyfully observed throughout the specified part of the United States. If the measure has proved effective in solving the coal problem the many Americans who were inconvenienced or financially affected will not regret the sacrifices that have been made. Nevertheless, the country will welcome the lifting of the ban which now seems to have been imposed on the coal trade, and the hope that no drastic order will again be deemed needful.

Unquestionably, the sudden betterment of weather conditions has had much to do with relieving the traffic congestion which was the greatest factor of difficulty in the fuel situation. How much is due to the weather and how much to the restrictions in the use of fuel may not easily be determined, nor will the American people insist on any nice apportionment.

To get men and food to France is the government's first aim. To supply homes and factories and business places with fuel is highly important, but for the present it is a secondary consideration. It may be assumed that the modification of Administrator Garfield's order and the assurance that the entire scope of the order will soon be nullified is proof that the prime national need has been met. For this the American people should be as grateful as for the incidental benefits that must accrue from a return to normal or nearly normal conditions.

Pointed Observations

After all, the worth of Baker's contentions in reply to his critics will be tested in France before long.—Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

It is important to note that Field Marshal von Hindenburg is not at the west front supervising plans for a smashing offensive which has been Representative Glass says the determination of certain Democrats and Republicans in the senate is "to get Baker," which seems to be true; but as most Americans are actuated just now by a purpose to get the Kaiser, the secretary of war is in no immediate danger.—New York World.

On the other hand, the delay in that drive on the western front may be due to German thoroughness in preparing the plans and specifications. You see, they have to make entirely new ones, as the old ones that they have been preparing for the last 40 years have proved to be punk.—Indianapolis News.

The war will never be won with a congressional investigation.—Los Angeles Times.

Senator Wadsworth says our war-making machinery is incapable of teamwork. It does seem so. Suppose we try it with the senate left out for a while.—Savannah News.

Secretary Baker's admission that the United States has more troops in France than was planned to have there at this time, is further evidence of "outrageous inefficiency." We should have a war cabinet in order to stop this sort of thing at once.—New York World.

Sit tight in the boat, Americans; it is a part of the German propaganda to make you dissatisfied and disloyal.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

That the Romans made a threefold division of the month into Calends, Nones and Ides? The Calends was the first of the month; the Nones, in March, May, July, and October, on the seventh; and the Ides on the fifteenth; and in the remaining months the Nones on the fifth and the Ides on the thirteenth. The Calends was so named because it was an old custom of the College of Priests on the first of the month to call the people together to inform them of the festivals and sacred days to be observed during the month; the Nones received their names from being the ninth day before the Ides, reckoning inclusively; and the Ides from an obsolete verb signifying to divide, because they nearly halved the month.

One of the liveliest medley fox-trots of the season is Columbia's "Sally Down Our Alley," contributed to Columbia's collection of dance records for March by Jockers Brothers. Coupled with it is "They Go Wild, Simply Wild, Over Me," a one-step in which the violins and drum introduce with brilliant effect "Pull the Cork Out of Old Erin." "Sweet Evangeline of Old Arcady" and "Daniel in the Lion's Den."

Thoroughly good music, the kind that bears bearing over and over again, is offered by Columbia in Lucy Gates' singing of Stephen Foster's well-loved song, "Massa's in de Cold, Cold Ground," accompanied by the Columbia Stellar Quartette. Equally pleasing is the coupled number, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," in which the same artists are heard.

INVITATION TO VISIT CARNIVAL AT GRANVILLE, O.

Everybody in the country round about is cordially invited to visit the big sale and carnival to be held in the Warner building at Granville, Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons and evenings of this week, in the interests of Red Cross and A. F. W. Whether he buys or not, he will enjoy the crowd, the patriotic decorations, the music by the band and on the Victrola, the fortune telling, the throw at the kaiser, tea each afternoon, lunch at any hour, and a lively auction sale each afternoon and evening.

He, and especially she, will enjoy the chance to pick up some really fine bargains, as the marking committee, which completed its work yesterday, has deemed it wise to place a very low estimate on every article contributed. Live stock worth its weight in gold is to be put up at auction.

A Granville centennial cook book, the single copy extant, will be offered on Friday evening to the highest bidder.

Mrs. J. D. Thompson heads the committee at the lunch counter, where all sorts of good things may be had at 5 cents each, except hot meat, at 10 cents.

SPRING STYLES SMACK OF THE SOIL SINCE GARDENING IS PATRIOTIC

With the planting season approaching, costumes for the farmerette, who will plant a war garden, take precedence over the usual frills and furbelows of the spring wardrobe. Many members of the fair sex are donning ginghams and khaki. Illustrated are two garden costumes in khaki, the one a smart suit with belted coat, featuring large and roomy pockets and the other a comfortable bloomer costume, with roomy bodice. Besides being attractive, these outfits are comfortable.

EXAMINATION IS PROCEEDING WITH GREAT RAPIDITY

The examination of the men in class one of the selective draft is progressing with great rapidity and the local board is to be highly commended for the systematic order in which the examinations are being carried on.

The examinations are being made on the third floor of the Memorial building and at the top of the stairs each registrant is given his papers filled out with his name and occupation. The dressing rooms are both clean and warm and there is plenty of room for the registrants to hang their clothes.

Today there were 15 doctors making the examinations and upon entering the room one is given the impression of a progressive party, each doctor has his particular work to do. The registrant is first weighed, answers questions as to his general condition and so on until the examination is completed. If anything radically wrong is found the examination stops there and he is ordered to report at Zanesville for re-examination.

The board at Zanesville is a physical medical board of appeals and whatever their decision is it is final. Yesterday 80 men were examined and today there were 120.

BUNGLING BROS. INDOOR CIRCUS AT HI BOYS' GYM

Something rather novel in the way of entertainment will be put on by the Y. M. C. A. boys at the High school gymnasium. Washington's birthday. The gymnasium at the Y. M. C. A. is not large enough to stage this show, known as "Bungling Brothers Big Indoor Circus." Every boy and girl in the city should see this show and the older people will enjoy it as well. There will be clowns, acrobats, trained animals, a Jass band, and all the other features that are found in the largest shows on the road today.

Every boy who has a part in the circus is in some way connected with the local "Y" and they are practicing hard to make this entertainment the best ever put on in the city. The local Y. M. C. A. has never held anything that in any way equals this show, and the management believes that the public will help in every way to make it a success. The price of admission is ten cents, a price within the reach of every one.

Our Boys and Girls

The furnishings for baby's bed can be made at home. The rubber sheet and quilted pad must be bought in most cases, but if time is no greater consideration, the pad can be made at home on the machine, using soft, rather loosely woven muslin for the covering and sanitary cotton for the filling.

Thin, soft muslin will be much more comfortable for baby than sheets and pillowcases of linen. They should be simply made and trimmed with a little turtorial lace edging and insertion. Baby blankets are very soft and light, but the home-made blanket of white elderdown is fully as satisfactory as the boughten ones. The edges should be bound with ribbon in a dainty color, since white edges soil so easily. A spread is not really necessary on the bed of an infant, but a pretty cover of point de esprit, lined with a color, is extremely dainty.

It is well not to make anything too small for the coming baby. Sleeves may be taken up temporarily by running tiny tucks across them, and both sleeve and neck openings should be finished with casings run with narrow bobbinet, which launder better than linen and is not likely to tangle into untieable knots.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapiesin" Relieves Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt, if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapiesin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have dyspepsia. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps the stomach sweetened and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quick, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it stops fermentation and acidity and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. —Advertisement.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headaches—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. See and see for best. All druggists.

WANT ENGINEERS FOR SERVICE IN FRANCE

Washington, Feb. 13.—The war department has asked the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers to furnish fifty men for tank service and 1,000 engineers for transportation service in France.

Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the brotherhood today told the railroad wage commission he would furnish the department the names of men available.

During the Mexican trouble Mr. Stone said, the war department also asked the brotherhood for men who spoke Spanish and who were competent to move troop trains. He said he furnished them the names of more than 300.

The commission to show the patriotism of the engineers and the part they played in a national emergency. Never before this winter, in the opinion of Mr. Stone have the roads approached the bad weather season with so little preparation and with the motive power in such rotten condition.

"It looks as if the railroads were trying to run down the condition of the roads so as to run up overtime and discredit the eight hour law," said Stone. "As early as October I suggested to President Wilson that unless he took a hand in the coal situation just such trouble would happen as did happen in the past two months."

Prediction that the "worst horror" of the railroads was yet to come if long hours were not eliminated was made by Mr. Stone. Men working 20, 25 and even 30 hours at a stretch, he said, were physically exhausted and not responsible for any wreck that might happen.

"Do you think the passengers on these luxurious trains would sleep so soundly if they knew the real conditions?" he asked. "Back of it all is some ambitious official who wants to make a record hauling a few more tons. The only remedy is penalty time and a half for overtime work."

Mr. Stone denied reports that there was a shortage of engineers which would necessitate working the men excessive hours.

PREACHER POINTED WAY TO HEALTH

Creator Stored Strange Deposit of Medicinal Iron As For This Very Purpose

CHEMICAL CORPORATION RECOGNIZES ITS WONDERFUL PROPERTIES

"I was dragging along suffering with kidney trouble just like lots of other people do I guess, when along came Reverend J. J. Bland, of Parrott, Va., a man of unquestioned standing and on his say so, which I couldn't doubt, I bought a bottle of this Acid Iron Mineral which they make from a newly discovered mineral found down near Hickory, Mississippi, and which a preacher first found was good for stomach and kidney troubles a few years ago. I bought the bottle and it sure did me good. I found that it was a real cure for my kidney trouble and I'm glad to join the rest in praising it," writes L. A. McCoy, of McCoy, Va., near Parrott, Va.

It seems funny, but for some time preachers in different parts of the country were the only ones aware of the almost miraculous powers of this natural iron compound which the Creator stored as if for the very purpose, deep within the earth down in Mississippi.

The Ferronine Chemical Corp., investigated its medicinal properties and now bottles it for home use in dollar bottles and for hospitals and doctors in large gallon and half gallon bottles. It is so powerful that a half to a full teaspoonful in a glass of water is a dose. A little goes a long way, yet it is harmless, does not injure the most delicate stomach or blacken the teeth and has stood every conceivable test. Get a bottle if troubled with kidneys, bladder, indigestion, rheumatism, or stomach trouble and see how quickly results may be secured since the discovery of this compound.—Advertisement.

AMUSEMENTS

GRAND. Tonight. Thos. H. Ince, builder and specialist in vaudeville, has almost outdone his former efforts at realism in the reproduction of a famous Alaskan town in the first gold rush days. It was erected on the great range at Inverville, which has the most varied collection of villages in filmland. In completeness and accuracy it vies with the Mexican, Holland, Irish, French and other villages that have framed the picturesque backgrounds for many Triangle plays.

In "The Flame of the Yukon," in which Dorothy Dalton is presented as star, one sees the long air street of this Yukon town, which had grown up almost overnight. This street was reproduced with a fidelity seldom attempted. Every feature in the original was retained, even to the exact lettering on the signs, the original names on the stores and the prices of goods in the days of 1898-9. The result was achieved by calling in the aid of experts to advise the designers and architects. The building of the street, which is nearly five blocks long, was supervised by George H. Percival, a pioneer and proprietor of northern Alaska's first dance hall.

AUDITORIUM. Jack Pickford—A Versatile Star. It is a well known fact that a family usually produces no more than one or at the very most two brilliant members.

After that, the children are apt to be mediocre, if not actually below the average. But a brilliant exception to this rule has been found. This is the famous Pickford family, of which each member has proven a genius, first "Little Mary," second her brilliant brother Jack, and third, Lottie, who is a star in her own right.

Or Mary little need be said, while Lottie, too, is well known. Jack Pickford, however, is the latest recruit to the ranks of photoplay stardom from the Pickford family and of him, one of the biggest trade papers recently said: "The natural comment upon Mr. Pickford's work is that photoplay producers have overlooked a good bet too long."

"With Little Mary holding a place of her own as the only one of her kind among the feminine stars, someone should have seen long ago that the same characteristic would hold good in the male as well as the female branch of the family. There is something peculiarly attractive about Jack Pickford, and we would say that it is the same thing that is peculiarly attractive about his big sister, Lottie. Lightning change of expression and their representing to the minutest degree the exact feeling called for."

Recently Lottie Huff has been the co-star in Jack Pickford's photoplays shown on Friday and Saturday at the Auditorium theatre.

These friends from the East gave a large house party, and when planning the entertainment for their guests suggested that they give a costume ball and permit her to furnish a company of moving picture players as part of the guests.

A huge portable lighting plant was brought from the studios and Director George H. Melford who has been responsible for many of Miss Martin's recent successes, rehearsed the amateur artists.

Anna Held. In Paris they call Anna Held the modern Jeanne d'Arc because of the wonderful things she has done for war relief for her beloved France. During the two years just previous to her turning to America she was indefatigable in giving benefits, singing at charity functions and soliciting and raising money in scores of ways for the aid of the wounded and the assistance of the widows and orphans of her hand and French artists and Boy Scouts, whom she taught to sing "Tipperary" in English for the English soldiers, in English for the English enemy's guns to carry cheer to her.

Judged by the effect on Mae Marsh, the star, and Margaret Mayo, the author, Goldwyn's first production, "Traffic in Souls," will be shown at the Alhambra theatre, Sunday and Monday. It is destined to win both laughter and tears from audiences throughout the world.

Mae Marsh and Margaret Mayo were present at the first showing of the completed picture in Goldwyn's New York projection rooms. As the camera followed Polly through her vicissitudes to the final triumph of love and faith, the combined spell of Miss Marsh's wonderful acting, the truly remarkable photography and lighting and the symbolically interwoven sub-title told on Miss Mayo, as it did in greater or less degree on every person in the room. She cried a little bit.

LYRIC. At the Lyric theatre tonight, the Cornell-Price Players present the military drama, "The Traffic in Souls," with new vaudeville between the acts. On Thursday, the feature play of the week will be "The Traffic in Souls," which were suppressed in many places. The play is clean, in spite of the disagreeable subject, and tell a story true to life. It depicts in a vivid manner, the lives of white slaves, and the manner in which they secure their victims, and the inevitable result of wrong-doing. It catches a powerful lesson, and should be seen by every mother and daughter. There is a good vein of comedy running throughout the play, which enlivens the otherwise tense situations. Owing to the length of the play, there will be only two performances of this play: a matinee at 2:15 for ladies only, and the night performance at 8:15 for everybody. At the matinee performance, Miss Martin, who plays the role of "Agnes," will give a short talk to the ladies on white slavery, she having been a member of the Anti-Vice Crusade committee in Chicago two years ago. Owing to the nature of this play, no children under fifteen will be admitted unless accompanied by their parents. All seats for this play, matinee and night, will be 25 cents, each, and seats for the night performance may now be secured in advance without extra charge.

Auditorium. Manager Fenberg is glad to announce his latest production, "The Traffic in Souls," which will be shown at the Auditorium theatre, Sunday and Monday. The story provides the two stars with abundant opportunity for clever acting and deft humorous touches.

A Play That Has Charmed the World. No modern play has had representation in more English-speaking countries at one time than "Daddy Long Legs." When Henry Miller first gave it stage presentation three years ago its instant success was proclaimed by Chicago. New York followed with a week at the Gaiety Theatre, while the cities of the Coast gave it unusual runs. San Francisco alone claiming it for five weeks to capacity business. A year ago last June London added its endorsement to that of America and had by long lease run at the Duke of York's Theatre for over twelve months. Australia came next with record engagements. Meanwhile two companies were presenting it in the larger cities of the United States and Canada for two seasons. This season, Mr. Miller is presenting two companies in the com-known. The new play is called "Troublemakers," and is seen at the Auditorium Sunday.

ALHAMBRA. Tonight and Tomorrow. In the days of Mark Anthony and Cleopatra, and in days when "knight-hood was in flower," the men always put love first of everything in their lives. Were they on the highway to success when love came to their lives, they cast their careers, their positions, everything aside for the woman they loved. Love was the supreme thing in their lives. Nothing else mattered.

But how is it in these modern days of big business and big politics? Do men still prefer love to a career? Are they still willing to sacrifice everything for the woman they love?

At least one modern man—Hugh Carlton in "Stolen Hours," the new World picture, is asking the question. He is asking the question of the oldest times. When it came to a question of being a tremendous political success in England, or of having the woman he loved, he threw over his career for her.

Sunday and Monday. Judged by the effect on Mae Marsh, the star, and Margaret Mayo, the author, Goldwyn's first production, "Traffic in Souls," will be shown at the Alhambra theatre, Sunday and Monday. It is destined to win both laughter and tears from audiences throughout the world.

Mae Marsh and Margaret Mayo were present at the first showing of the completed picture in Goldwyn's New York projection rooms. As the camera followed Polly through her vicissitudes to the final triumph of love and faith, the combined spell of Miss Marsh's wonderful acting, the truly remarkable photography and lighting and the symbolically interwoven sub-title told on Miss Mayo, as it did in greater or less degree on every person in the room. She cried a little bit.

LYRIC. At the Lyric theatre tonight, the Cornell-Price Players present the military drama, "The Traffic in Souls," with new vaudeville between the acts. On Thursday, the feature play of the week will be "The Traffic in Souls," which were suppressed in many places. The play is clean, in spite of the disagreeable subject, and tell a story true to life. It depicts in a vivid manner, the lives of white slaves, and the manner in which they secure their victims, and the inevitable result of wrong-doing. It catches a powerful lesson, and should be seen by every mother and daughter. There is a good vein of comedy running throughout the play, which enlivens the otherwise tense situations. Owing to the length of the play, there will be only two performances of this play: a matinee at 2:15 for ladies only, and the night performance at 8:15 for everybody. At the matinee performance, Miss Martin, who plays the role of "Agnes," will give a short talk to the ladies on white slavery, she having been a member of the Anti-Vice Crusade committee in Chicago two years ago. Owing to the nature of this play, no children under fifteen will be admitted unless accompanied by their parents. All seats for this play, matinee and night, will be 25 cents, each, and seats for the night performance may now be secured in advance without extra charge.

LICKING COUNTY SOLDIER BOYS

Editor of The Advocate—The Licking county soldiers' and sailors' service medal arrived this week and I read your letter with considerable interest. Nothing has brought home my responsible duties in this war, and the appreciation of my position to add America by people in whose community I was raised and educated, as this token coming from 1400 thoroughbred United States citizens in Newark and Licking county.

It is with the utmost candor and hearty appreciation that I congratulate you and The Advocate for their enterprise shown in fostering such a worthy project—the award of service medals. It is my grateful opinion that no project would give the boys from Licking more inspiration or greater desire to defend the honor of our country than a service medal—from home. No matter how simple or how gorgeous it conveys the same impression—that the home-folk are wishing you success in the great war.

Your impressive letter and the list of 1400 contributors to the fund carries a double effect. When you realize that every one of the 1400 have paid for some part of the medal, that you know all the contributors in a more or less personal way and the great motive which occasioned each donation you are thoroughly awed with what a great thing this war medal is. It will have upon the rise or the fall of your own country, the changes it will bring about in your own state, your own county, your own city and your own home.

So it is—nothing I believe, will encourage the boys from Licking and steel their desire to conquer, more than The Advocate service medal and the realization that 1400 of Newark and Licking county citizens have contributed to it.

After this simple but sincere appreciative comment I might give you some idea regarding an aviation ground school for Uncle Sam's future air pilots. I am half way through the course now and am working hard to finish. As from 20 to 25 per cent are rejected here and elsewhere in the ground schools—the national average is 20 per cent—I am nowise certain of getting through. Uncle Sam certainly is careful about the lieutenant's commissions he gives to his flying army. There is one dominant requirement which is thoroughly impressed on Uncle Sam's flying cadets at he start—discipline. And so it is in any branch of the army service. But more so to the airplane pilots than any other branch because of their great responsibility when flying over the trenches.

"And why all this drill?" ask the cadets when they enter one of the university ground schools. "Why should we know all about drill when we are going to pilot an airplane?" But the answer is easily understood. The pilots get Lieutenant's commissions and Uncle Sam requires his lieutenants to be thorough soldiers. So it is that the future pilots of the air fleets from America will know how to drill and handle a company of men along with the consequent routine duty of such work. Also, drill is essential to good discipline.

So it is the ground school work of the flyer is chiefly concerned with the ability of the candidate to be an officer. If he will not fill this requirement he is rejected. Men are known as flying cadets at the ground schools. Secondly, the flying cadet must master all the theoretical subjects which are on his course. Even though he passed the requirements for an officer he cannot be graduated from the school unless he passes the prescribed courses which are mapped out for him.

A thorough knowledge of wireless—sending and receiving, together with courses in machine gunnery, military law, engines, theory of flight, airplanes, and mapping, constitute the subjects studied in the eight weeks' course. This array of brain-torture along with a stiff course in drill makes the life of a cadet very busy, indeed.

During the first three weeks the time is given over largely to military drill. Four hours a day is the prescription meted out. After three weeks only one hour of drill a day is on the schedule, the remainder of the time being taken up with academic work.

We are told that a neat, swagger appearance constitute nine-tenths of an aviator, who should dress and strut around like a peacock, etc. But as there are some half dozen or so other things which we have been told constitute nine-tenths of an aviator, such as nerve, morale, discipline, etc., that it is hard to realize what elastic qualities nine-tenths has.

Aside from the cold wartime aspect of the ground school course, it seems quite logical that the feminine elements has exerted a potential influence on the war department—petticoat politics. This phenomenon is manifested in the domestic activity which is a branch of an aviator's course. A flying cadet must have his room and his apparel as neat and fresh as a new-born day in June.

Cadets make their beds, sweep the floor, dust the tables, clean the closets, shave, shine their puttees and shoes, and have their clothes in perfect condition for inspection at 8 a. m. Before this time he must also go on a 15-minute hike, eat breakfast and march to the armory—a 200x400-foot structure here—which is three-quarters of a mile away.

Saturday afternoons, evenings and Sundays excepted, the cadets have practically no leisure time at all during the week. Indeed, it is real intensive training.

Saturday afternoons and evenings, with Sunday mornings and part of the afternoons, are given over to sweet and blithful recuperation of the body and spirit.

"I see you have ten demerits." Make a casual observation like that to a cadet and he will register insanity quicker than any photoplay actor was ever known to achieve.

Ten demerits means a summons before the academic board and as a usual consequence—dismissal from the school.

Demerits are awarded for anything at any time which is deemed unmilitary and unbecoming an officer. Anything about the room, personal appearance or conduct of a cadet may be the cause of demerits. A coat left on a bed, an unbuttoned overcoat, a lost button, shoes not shined, a breach of military conduct, such as running as an officer, are some of the things which are deplored and resolve into demerits if not observed assiduously.

And so demerits result in discipline.

The men at the ground school are from 21 to 30 years of age. They are all fine specimens of physical perfection and their chief cause of sickness comes about once a week when inoculation and vaccination takes place. The effects wear off after a day, however, and the men are ready for duty.

The men are looking forward to a long war and as a rule do not pay much attention to the peace propaganda which breaks out of Germany ever so often prior to a big drive by the Kaiser on some strategic point.

The men are well quartered here. The five junior squadrons are in the Y. M. C. A. in Champaign—across the street from Urbana. The senior squadrons are quartered in the new "woman's building" in Urbana. The junior barracks are a half mile from the senior barracks. Urbana and Champaign are shoulder-to-shoulder. You can't tell where one begins and the other ends. The university is located mostly in Urbana, the campus being right at the edge of the town.

The classes are all held in university buildings. The school is very thorough and efficient. The University of Illinois is one of the best equipped universities in the country, as you doubtless know.

The officers in charge of the school are very fine in military work and capable as instructors. We have been told that the school here is the "best Point of the West," and we believe it.

With best wishes to you and The Advocate staff, of which I was formerly a member, I am,

Most sincerely,
Cadet John A. Ward.
Champaign, Ill.
